Soviet Ambassador Will Return to Table to Press Demand On Iranian Case

BULLETIN
New York, April 9—(P)—Ambassador Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian member of the United Nations Security Council, said today that he would attend today's session.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
New York, April 9—(P)—Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko was expected to return immediately to United Nations Security Council meetings in order to press Russia's demand for complete dismissal of the Iranian case.

Barring one possibility, a stiff Soviet-American fight appears likely to result over this issue. Secretary of State Byrnes indicated that the United States is opposed to reopening the Iranian case until May 6, the deadline by which all Soviet troops are supposed to be out of Iran. Some officials said the British held a similar view.

The possibility was seen that Iran might agree with Russia's demand. Such a development would mean that the two governments most concerned in the controversy considered it a closed book as far as the council goes. That might weaken any agreement the United States could make for keeping it open for consideration May 6.

Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala has asked Premier Ahmed Qavam at Tehran for instructions. News dispatches from Tehran presented apparently conflicting views. One unidentified cabinet member said Qavam would agree to dismissal. But Prince Mozaffar Pirouz, Iranian propaganda minister, said it was "entirely a security council matter."

The council was scheduled to meet today (3 p. m., E. S. T.) to pass upon a set of permanent rules by which it may govern its proceedings in the future. The rules were drawn up by a committee of experts representing all 11 members, and are considered by delegates to be non-controversial. United Nations officials said there seemed no question that Gromyko would attend the session—his first since he walked out in protest against discussing the Iranian case two weeks ago.

Whether he would insist upon bringing up the demand for dismissing the Iranian case or wait until tomorrow was uncertain, but some authorities known to be familiar with his views believed he would not object to one day's delay.

The first member of the council to comment directly on the Russian move was Dr. Leao Velloso of Brazil, who said he opposed it. He declared that "it is logically up to Iran and not to Russia" to ask that the case be disposed of, since Iran brought the original complaint.

There was much speculation among the council delegation as to why Russia should have come forward with the demand, since it all went well inside Iran it was generally expected that the council's action on May 6 would be little more than a formality.

Some suggested that perhaps the Russian government considered that a point of honor is involved.

Ohio Basin's Flood Needs Are Stressed

Washington, April 9—(P)—The United States can ill afford to permit its flood control program to lag, now that the war is over, Lieutenant General R. A. Wheeler, chief of army engineers, told the House flood control committee today.

His testimony opened two weeks of hearings on one of the biggest flood control programs since the war. Proponents and opponents of projects will appear before the committee, the first tomorrow when Atlantic seaboard proposals will be discussed.

Wheeler said much more money than has been appropriated is needed in the Ohio river basin to take care of badly needed local flood protection projects and a similar situation exists in the Missouri river basin.

Chairman Whittington, Democrat, of the rivers and harbors committee, said that projects estimated to cost close to $1,000,000 will be considered by that group.

They're Making Jap History

For centuries Japanese have raised hands and eyebrows in holy horror at the Occidental practice of kissing—but now we've got them doing it too. Shown above is the first Japanese movie kiss ever screened. It was made on suggestion from MacArthur headquarters that a kiss would "democratize" Jap films. Actress Hidoko Mimura and Shinichi Himori carry out the suggestion.

Plans Are Being Rushed For Modernizing Mental Hospitals

Harrisburg, April 9—(P)—The commonwealth is pushing the drafting of plans and specifications for its $17,000,000 improvement program at mental hospitals although it has not been determined if materials will be available.

Frank E. Hoffman, acting deputy secretary of property and supplies, said today commonwealth representatives have conferred with Washington authorities on the problem but "we have not yet had an answer."

Federal authorities recently froze all building materials and equipment to give preference to housing for veterans. The state has sought to have its hospital improvement program classified as necessary shelter.

"They told us to go ahead with our plans," Hoffman said, even though no immediate answer on priorities was forthcoming. It will be at least two months before architects and engineers complete detailed drawings and specifications so that bids can be asked, he added.

Construction, however, already is under way at Norristown and Philadelphia hospitals.

The program for the most part calls for the modernizing of utilities, laundries, storage and refrigeration, kitchens and staff housing accommodations at state institutions. The money to pay for the program comes from a $9,000,000 appropriation made in 1943 and the allocation to hospitals of another $8,000,000 by Governor Martin last year.

Dr. Howard K. Petry, chairman of the governor's commission on state mental hospitals and superintendent of Harrisburg State Hospital, said the first aim of the program is to expand the present overtaxed utilities and auxiliary services before new patient buildings are added to existing institutions.

Appropriations Committee Cuts Into Departmental Funds

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, April 9—(P)—Demanding elimination of what it called a "deeply entrenched x x x spending psychology" among federal officials, the house appropriations committee today recommended deep slashes in state, commerce and justice department funds.

It sent to the house floor a $358,825,758 bill to finance the three departments and the federal judiciary for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The total represents a 13 per cent cut from budget estimates but a $40,510,759 boost over current year funds.

By agencies the money was earmarked: $143,024,000 for commerce, $104,783,408 for state, $95,168,250 for justice, and $15,850,100 for the judiciary.

All but a small part of the increase went to the commerce and state departments, whose foreign work has been augmented by war's end.

Those two departments, too, took the major budget reductions, 18 percent in the case of the state department and 17 percent for commerce.

The committee allowed no funds at all for the state department's separate intelligence unit; chopped its estimate for expanded cultural relations activities almost in half, and sharply pared commerce department requests for the census bureau and the civil aeronautics administration.

The committee approved a state department budget almost five times as large as the last pre-war budget after hearing Secretary of State James Byrnes behind closed doors.

Jelly Beans To Try a Comeback

New York, April 9—(P)—There will be plenty of home-colored eggs for the children's easter baskets this year—but very few chocolate ones.

Egg supplies will be "more than ample" for the first time since the war began, trade sources said, and dye-makers promise plenty of bright coloring.

There will be jelly beans for the first time since the war. Sugar and corn syrup shortages have cut production of all seasonal novelties candies, said the Association of Manufacturers of Confectionery and Chocolate.

The youngsters will not have many Easter novelties because they are still few and far between, but toy makers expect to sell about 5,000,000 Easter bunnies.

"Bull" Halsey Ill in Hospital

Philadelphia, April 9—(P)—Fleet Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey, Jr., 65, was resting comfortably in Philadelphia naval hospital today suffering from an "upper respiratory infection," the navy announced.

Halsey, who had been suffering for several days "with symptoms of a common cold" is in very good condition," Captain Howard H. Montgomery, commanding officer of the hospital, said.

STRIKERS ARE SLOWING UP ALL BUSINESS

Soft Coal Miners Persist in Their Demands as Do the Electrical and Farm Equipment Workers

SOME DISPUTES SETTLED

By the Associated Press
There was a flurry of activity on the nation's labor front today, but the country's major dispute—the work stoppage in the soft coal mines—persisted. Also continuing to slow the reconversion program were prolonged strikes by more than 100,000 electrical and farm equipment workers.

As the 400,000 AFL soft coal miners remained away from their jobs, new layoffs were reported in steel plants. Meanwhile, as negotiators planned to meet in Washington a top labor official who asked anonymity said he believed the government "will do something this week." In addition to the miners, about 408,000 other workers were idle because of labor disputes.

On the credit side of the industrial strife was the agreement by CIO transport workers to end an eight day transit strike in Akron. The averting of a threatened strike of 1,400 AFL electrical workers which would have affected power, light and transportation for a million persons in the Cincinnati area, and a labor-management agreement ending a six-month old strike by 700 CIO workers at the American Tobacco Company in Philadelphia. Wages were the chief issue in each dispute.

The strikers at three American Tobacco plants in Philadelphia were to vote on ratification of the terms which provided a general wage increase of 12 to 15 cents an hour, maintenance of membership, and dues checkoff. The strike is the longest now in effect in Pennsylvania.

The CIO United Food, Tobacco and Agriculture Workers of America originally had demanded wage hikes of 25 percent. Later the union proposed an hourly pay boost of 15½ cents and finally, a union spokesman said, agreed to the company offer of time and a half overtime pay for all work after eight hours each day.

The 450 CIO transport workers in Akron ended their eight-day strike on the basis of a 12 cent hourly wage increase.

The threatened power strike in Cincinnati was averted with a compromise 17 cent hourly wage increase. The union had asked 20 cents and the company had offered 15.

Federal conciliators in Washington continued negotiating sessions in an attempt to end the 11 weeks old strike by 30,000 CIO workers at International Harvester Company plants.

The 85-day old strike by 75,000 CIO electrical workers at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant in a wage dispute appeared no nearer settlement, but some 3,000 salaried employees crossed picket lines at the company's east Pittsburgh plant yesterday in the biggest back-to-work movement since the walkout started.

Cartel Ends On Control Of Matches

New York, April 9—(P)—Federal Judge Samuel Mandelbaum today signed a consent decree terminating what the government charged with a world-wide cartel formed by five of the nation's largest match producers, the Swedish Match Company, and officers and affiliates of the companies.

The decree ended a civil suit filed May 1, 1944 by the department of justice's anti-trust division in which it charged the firms with maintaining an international cartel for the purpose of controlling the manufacture and distribution of matches throughout the world.

In signing the decree, the defendants stated they did not admit any violation of the law, and the government stipulated that the decree was not to be taken as an admission by any of the defendants of unlawful activities.

SHIRTS AND NYLONS PLENTY IN MEXICO

New York, April 9—(P)—American can buy all the shirts and white shirts they want in Cuba and Mexico at $6 each, Walter Coogan, director of the international division of Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., said today on his return from a business trip to those countries.

Coogan said "there is no shortage of refrigerators or other household appliances in Mexico, and added: "Inflation has raised the price of a one-ounce drink of Scotch and soda to $1 and dinners to from $3 to $5 in Mexico City."

United States Pushes Peace Plan With Olive Branch To Argentina

Draft Holiday May Be Tried

Washington, April 9—(P)—A draft holiday got an energetic build-up on the house side of the capitol today, but initial senate sentiment seemed to favor continuing selective service without any such experiment.

Both senate and house military committees were striving to reach decisions, today if possible, on what recommendations to make about extending the draft law, now due to expire May 15. The political considerations of an election year made the decisions touchy ones.

Senator Austin (R-Vt) was optimistic that the senate group would approve his proposal for a straightaway one-year extension, with the services of inductees limited to 18 months. This is the program the armed forces have been urging.

Across the capitol, however, industrial house military committee members reported that the War Department was willing to agree to a four or six months ban on inductions of new eligibles after May 15, provided congress would vote a full year's extension of selective service. The War Department did not comment.

Under this plan, President Truman would be authorized to order inductions resumed after the four or six months moratorium if enlistments meanwhile failed to meet army manpower needs.

To encourage those enlistments, Ray Vinson (D-Ga) introduced legislation yesterday for a $3,000,000 recruiting campaign. This measure carried provisions for raising the pay of all enlisted personnel with a 100 per cent boost for privates, and for a six-month ban on draft inductions while the effectiveness of the campaign was being tested.

It was after this proposal was offered that Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala) indicated to newsmen that he thought the War Department would be ready to go along on such a compromise.

Slayer Of Clarendon Man Is Held

Radio 3/c James Hulings, of Clarendon, shot to death on a Washington, D. C. street as he and another pedestrian ran to the assistance of a colored woman being beaten is being hailed as a hero by the press of the nation's capital. He was shot down cold bloodedly by Eugene Lee, a 22 year old negro and his body will be brought to his home for internment.

Reports from Washington are that Lee, who was held by a coroner's jury for investigation by the grand jury on a murder charge arising from the fatal shooting of Hulings, Lee and his brother, Henry E. Lee, 25, were arrested as they attempted to flee in a taxicab which they commandeered at gunpoint. The cab had a passenger and he grappled with the pair of colored men and disarmed them and held them until police arrived.

The passenger, John Bjournvick, 29, of Seat Pleasant, Md., greatly endangered himself as the battle in the moving taxicab was a furious one and both negroes attempted to assault him. However the driver halted the cab and aided in subduing the colored men.

John E. Carter, 24, of Tacoma Park, Md., who with Hulings ran to give aid to the two women was also shot. He is in a hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the neck which was also inflicted by Lee.

Police officer Louis H. Giersch, when he appeared before the coroner's jury investigating the case said he had arrested the two colored men after they had been subdued by Bjournvick and the taxicab driver.

Sugar Strike Date Is Set

Washington, April 9—(P)—CIO and AFL unions today called a strike effective at midnight at seven east coast refineries which process 70 percent of the nation's cane sugar.

The words came from "The Voice of Freedom," the radio on still-embattled Corregidor. They were written by Capt. Salvador P. Lopez, former executive officer on Gen. Jonathan Wainwright's staff.

Lopez now is back at his old job with the Manila Post—whose pages recently heralded the death before an American firing squad of Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, conqueror of both Bataan and Corregidor. A convicted war criminal, Homma was condemned for the ruthless cruelties of his troops as they crushed the last formal resistance in the Philippines.

Manila papers today reprinted Lopez' historic 1942 radio announcement, although there were no formal commemorative ceremonies.

Of the dead, many—both Americans and Filipinos—still lie in jungle graves on this densely wooded peninsula.

Wage - Price Plan Halts Boost In Milk

By NORMAN WALKER

Washington, April 9—(P)—The administration today underscored its "buckle-not-break" description of the new wage-price policy by holding that only part of a recent pay boost justified a price rise.

The ruling came from the National Wage Stabilization Board in a case involving an 18-cent-an-hour wage hike granted March 2 by 14 Detroit milk dealers.

Specifically, the board declared that only 10 cents of the increase could be used by the dealers in applying to OPA for price relief. The wage settlement ended a 10-day strike of approximately 1,200 CIO United Dairy Workers.

As a result of yesterday's ruling—first of its kind—the dealers will be required either to absorb the eight-cent difference or apply to the wage board for permission to reduce their pay scale eight cents an hour.

Bataan Surrender Came Just Four Years Ago at Dawn

By JOHN R. WARD

Bataan Peninsula, April 9—(P)—A small car flying a white flag carried American officers to the Japanese lines four years ago today to surrender this fog-shrouded peninsula—where General MacArthur's stand with outnumbered, outgunned forces upset the whole timetable of Japanese conquest.

To thousands of Filipinos huddled fearfully by forbidden radios, and the rest of the world, these words on April 9, 1942: "... With heads bloody but unbowed, they have yielded to superior force and numbers. . . the world will long remember the epic struggle that Filipino and American forces put up in the jungle fastnesses and along the rugged coast of Bataan."

"For what sustained them . . . was a force more than physical. It was the force of unconquerable faith."

"Bataan has fallen, but the spirit that made it stand—a beacon to all the liberty-loving people of the world—cannot fail."

The words came from "The Voice of Freedom," the radio on still-embattled Corregidor. They were written by Capt. Salvador P. Lopez, former executive officer on Gen. Jonathan Wainwright's staff.

Ministers of Big Four to Confer in Paris on Peace Treaties to Be Given Warring Nations That Opposed Allied Powers

BYRNES' TRIP TO PARIS IS VERY IMPORTANT ONE

By GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, April 9—(AP)—The United States threw its diplomatic weight today behind a double-barreled drive to speed peace for much of Europe and harmony for the Americas.

This, in brief, is the situation: Europe—Barring unexpected developments, Secretary of State Byrnes will meet in Paris April 25 with Foreign Ministers Molotov of Russia, Bevin of Britain and Bidault of France in a critical session which may determine when the projected, 21-nation European peace conference can begin.

At stake in turn are final treaties which will permit full restoration of sovereignty to the European countries once allied with Nazi Germany—Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland.

Americas—This country, in effect, is extending the olive branch to Col. Juan D. Peron, Argentina's "strong man" and president-elect. The gesture is a bid to end two years of intermittent bickering and restore hemisphere solidarity, backed by a pan-American defense treaty.

Byrnes disclosed these new developments at a news conference.

He announced that Molotov and Bevin had accepted his suggestion that big four foreign ministers meet in Paris some two weeks hence in an effort to break the present deadlock over drafts of proposed peace treaties. Bidault is expected to follow suit.

Then Byrnes issued a statement which said the United States would "welcome" Argentina's participation in the Pan American defense treaty if the Peron government would fulfill its hemisphere commitments including its pledge to eliminate "Axis influences."

Persons close to Byrnes said he considers the approaching Paris trip one of the most important missions he has ever undertaken. The cabinet officer has said repeatedly he regards peace treaties with the former Axis satellites and removal of occupation troops as a critically urgent matter.

This is why he has opposed postponing the general European peace conference, scheduled to start in Paris no later than May 1. Yesterday, however, he indicated postponement might be inevitable. He said the foreign ministers would have to set the date for its opening.

The statement on Argentina said a majority of the American republics had approved a United States plan to have Pan American union governors appoint a committee at their next meeting to coordinate five proposed defense treaties into a single document. This will be submitted to an inter-American conference at Rio De Janeiro.

Following up the Washington statement, the Brazilian foreign office said it would call the Rio conference "at the best opportunity" after the Paris peace parley. This would give the Peron government time to indicate its foreign policy, Brazil said.

Stark and Gen. George C. Marshall, former army chief of staff and now envoy to China, were recalled in an effort to learn their whereabouts the night before the Sunday attack on Pearl Harbor.

Despite testimony by other witnesses that President Roosevelt had tried to locate the chief of naval operations that night and had been informed that he was attending a musical comedy at a local theatre, Stark said again he could not remember where he was.

Richardson recalled previous testimony by Comdr. Lester R. Schultz, on duty at the White House that night, that President Roosevelt had exclaimed "this means war" when he read a 13-part Japanese diplomatic message.

Stark testified that he knew nothing about receipt of the message until he went to his office in a routine way the next morning.

The documents put into the record by Richardson came from state department and White House files.

KIDNAP TRIAL TO OPEN

Philadelphia, April 9—(P)—The district attorney's office announced today that Emelia Sobka, 25-year-old New Jersey parolee, will go on trial tomorrow on charges of kidnapping three-year-old Mayer Trobman from his home here March 27.

In other action, teams from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Syracuse moved into the five-man standings.

Wilman, 41-year-old discharged serviceman, rode out hot streak with the following results:

1—Hit 2054 for the all-events leadership, missing by 16 pins the record 2070 set by Max Stein of Belleville, Ill. in 1937.

2—Rolled a 690 (245-236-209) singles set for sixth place.

3—Scattered 706 (214-245-247) pins to combine with 578 (190-197-191) knocked down by his partner, John Small, for a seventh place 1284 doubles rating.

Wilman's team total of 658 was rolled Sunday night. His 2054 all-around rating.

David Lincoln Gives Very Fine Address to Foremen's Club

Induction of new officers and one of the year's most interesting addresses featured the closing supper meeting of the season for the Warren Foremen's Club last night in the Y. M. C. A. building. The address, "Fitting a Man Into the Right Job," was given by Daniel F. Lincoln, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Jamestown.

For the first part of the meeting the out-going president, Ray Lewis, presided, and before he left the chair he expressed his appreciation of the support and loyalty of the club's officers and members during his term of office. A formal induction of the following new officers was led by General Secretary Ralph H. Wagner.

President, Ernest M. Rockhill; vice-president, David C. Levine; recording secretary, Richard Swanson, and treasurer, Fred H. McCutcheon. Immediately after induction these officers assumed their duties and President Rockhill took the chair for the remainder of the meeting, after a few appropriate remarks in which he pledged himself to do his best in leading the club for the 1946-47 season.

Mr. Lincoln brought out in a most interesting manner the learnings of an intensive study in psychological testing, which he made in behalf of the industries of Jamestown. He told of the experiences he had as he traveled in a number of eastern and middle-western states studying the methods employed by many industries as they checked the fitness and aptitudes of prospective workers in their plants.

As he talked Mr. Lincoln showed and demonstrated some of the testing devices used by a number of industries. His splendid talk impressed the Foremen with the definite relationship existing between the testing of workers and their efficiency and happiness. He made it quite clear that supervisors in industries need to be vitally interested in the use of these up-to-date testing methods.

Immediately following the meal, a most enjoyable program of instrumental music was rendered by several pupils of Charles Lind, who teaches the woodwind department of the Conservatory of Music. The selections were "Serenade," with flute and saxophone, by Joseph Fuellhart and Dorothy Bohren; and "Enchanted Isle," flute and clarinet, by Dorothy Bohren and Wayne Klenck. Mrs. Fox played the piano accompaniment.

At the meeting closed, President Rockhill asked the various plant groups to have their Governors designated by May in which month a meeting of the Board of Governors will be held to plan for a summer picnic and for the program of next fall and winter.

KIWANIS REMINDERS

They will meet at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 12:10, adjoining to the hotel for lunch at the conclusion of the service. Another reminder concerns the "Father and Son Day" on April 24, those who have no sons being advised to contact the committee concerning a "loan" for the occasion.

ONE LONE DRUNK

Things slowed down for the night crew of the police force last night and this morning the day shift found only one fellow with a severe headache ensconced in one of the palatial cells of the station house. He told it to Justice Greenlund who in turn told him to pay the usual fine and costs. An investigation was made at the Thelin store yesterday where some person had evidently dropped in from the roof during the Sunday night hours. From the footprints it was a small boy who had called and he evidently left without taking even one bite of candy.

FIVE DAYS TO COAST

Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Johnson, of Knotty Pine Court, Redding, Calif., write that they have arrived back home safely, making the trip from Warren in five days. They write the only place they found snow, and the roads slippery and bad, was in western Wyoming, where, in one short stretch of highway, four cars had ended up in a ditch. After leaving Reno, Nev., and crossing the California state line, they found snow in the mountains, so high the skiers were marooned for days in mountain lodges. "For miles," they add, "snow was piled eight and nine feet deep along the highway, cars were completely covered and lots of homes had only roofs showing." After leaving the mountains and dropping down into the valley, the travelers found bright, warm sunshine and orchards in bloom.

LAUGHS AND FEARS NEED BALANCE

Britain's current "go gay" drive seems to have a companion spirit in America, judging from the sudden and expanding postwar crop of festivals and celebrations.

Everywhere the trend now seems to be one toward jubilation, except within ourselves, where concern continues over the ruffled currents of the day . . . the shadows of suspicion and presentiment . . . the lingering pressure of the power complex.

Perhaps it is this very hidden emotional tension which makes the outward gaiety, instead of the long sigh of relief and the relaxation which comes from genuine peace. Perhaps all of this is merely a masque for fear that we haven't really achieved peace, after all—but only its outward semblance.

If so the abandon of a complete "go gay" idea is a bit premature. Festivals don't hurt; they offer a pleasant recapitulation of values other than war; but they shouldn't develop into a form of national escape. Rather, they should be constructive enough to temper our national humor so that we can go on with confident determination towards winning the final peace.

Most of us wish that, like Eugene O'Neill's "Lazarus Laughed," we could gather up all of this festive impulse into one huge laugh which would sweep the world with its infection—a great, gurgling belly laugh which would dissipate presumptions and the lingering neurosis of war.

One good humorist of the old, satire school might provoke the germ of such a belly laugh, but, unfortunately, the atomic cloud has brought a universal blight. Consequently, we must put a lot of smaller smiles together and simply "grin and bear it" as a nation still capable of good humor and gravity of outlook. We must avoid the hysteria of complete escape.

Along these same lines, we must avoid being stamped in the other direction. A fear complex is as bad as too much accent on hilarity, and we can go through the same old cycle of building up a bogey-man to haunt us. Pessimism draws the "big, bad bear" as a bigger and bigger bear, instead of injecting the rapier thrust which minimizes, ridicules, and dwarfs presumption.

The rapier thrust is satire. If we can look back a bit we can see the opportunities we missed for lampooning Hitler and Mussolini, instead of feeding them on the inverted sustenance of bogey-men. Remember, too, the child. A recalcitrant boy responds quickest to ridicule. Dramatize his misdemeanors, on the other hand, and he may become a felon.

With a balanced national humor, we can manage all of these things. We can keep our eyes open; we can maintain a firm hand; we can be happy at home; but we must make use of some of our zest to wield the old common denominator of satire. Let's laugh first at our own complex; then laugh at others. Let's show the world that humor is something besides hysteria.

THE HUMAN CYCLE

We have heard a lot recently about foreign trade and balance of exports and imports.

If this means buying British cars here instead of our own, which are non-existent, and sending our radios abroad while they are impossible to get at home—well, yes, we see what they mean by this game of economic ledgerdom.

Certainly the emphasis today is towards concentrating on the exceptional, rather than the essential. Even this might be alright, if it weren't for those obvious shifts in human affairs which, soon enough, will be hanging out the old slogans: "Buy British," and "Buy American."

LENTEN SERMONETTE

By GAIUS GLENN ATKINS

Interdenominational Edition, The Fellowship of Prayer BROUGHT TO JUDGMENT: "... and he shall separate them one from another." Matthew 25:32. Read Matthew 25:31-33; Galatians 6:7-10.

The cathedral builders of the Middle Ages carved the drama of the "Last Judgment" above the central portals of their sermons in stone with a varied wealth of realistic imagination, yet always so as to remind those who went in and out that an ultimate judgment awaited them. This last of Jesus' parables says in awesome words what they afterwards said in stone.

We do not now much consider the certainty of last judgments nor are we now much moved by the fear or hope of them. And all the while a revelation of God's judgments upon the nations has been in stone with a varied wealth of realistic imagination, yet always so as to remind those who went in and out that an ultimate judgment awaited them. This last of Jesus' parables says in awesome words what they afterwards said in stone.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
The security council of our new peace organization has come through its first major crisis well—encouraging the belief that at last we have a league of nations which will work.

The capable handling of the dangerous Russo-Iranian situation has demonstrated that the United Nations Security Council not only is a competent intermediary—but that what is more important—that the organization has the respect of the countries of the world. Indeed I think we may make it stronger and say that the authority of the United Nations is making itself felt.

And who can tell but what this auspicious beginning may lead to the great ideal proclaimed by General Douglas MacArthur yesterday when he called upon the nations to renounce their sovereign right to make war? The terrible alternative to that, as he pointed out, must be "another and totally destructive war—a war involving almost mass extermination."

Anyway, we've made a fair start, and the rainbow of peace still hangs in the sky. However, we should recognize this for what it is—just a beginning—just a step in the right direction.

The Iran difficulty has not been settled, and we shouldn't overlook that. As a matter of fact, having studied that complicated affair at first hand I venture the guess that it's a long way from being settled to the complete satisfaction of all concerned.

That's not the main point. What has happened is that a tiny country has been able to get a hearing of a grievance against a major power, the competence of the council to deal with the issue has been recognized, and the dispute has been guided onto a highway which may lead to ultimate settlement or which in any event may by-pass the use of force.

One of the most gratifying aspects of the case is that while the authority and dignity of the United Nations were maintained, the council didn't get tough in trying to force a settlement. The harsh question of sanctions didn't arise. Horse sense prevailed.

It's perhaps fortunate that this first test case should involve the rights of small nations as against those of the great powers. The fact that justice was evenly balanced between little Iran and mighty Russia will do much to encourage confidence in, and support of, the peace organization.

The Security Council has shelved off temporarily while the two countries negotiate if they don't reach a satisfactory solution the United Nations will take a hand again.

As previously remarked, it's likely to take a long time to achieve agreement, and it will be surprising if the two countries ever reach a point that satisfies both of them. And we mustn't overlook that England, which also has a big interest in Iran, will be watching to see that he toes aren't stepped on.

Oil of course isn't into the picture an dthat isn't without concern to Uncle Sam as well. However, as I see it the main point is that Iran is strategically important to Russia and Britain. The Soviet wants to be sure that her vital frontier in the Caspian zone is secure, and England can't forget that Iran is a land highway into India. Last but not least, Russia long has had an eye on a warm water port at the head of the Persian gulf. So you see there are momentous issues to be dealt with.

VEILED THREATS OF DESTRUCTION

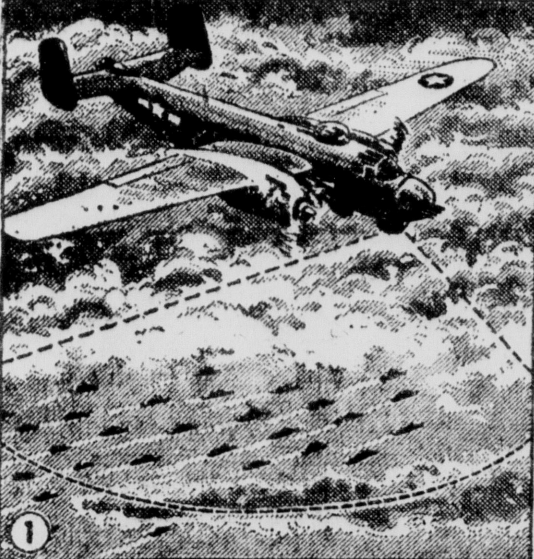

There is a veiled threat in many public announcements pertaining to health. We are led to believe that unless we take certain pills, absorb certain decoctions, eat certain foods, use certain tooth cleansers, drench ourselves with certain antiseptics, we are bound for utter destruction. Don't worry too much about your health. Cultivate regular habits, observe the principles of hygiene, and practice moderation. If you do become ill, there is but one refuge . . . your family physician. ADVENTURES IN SPACE: The Story of Radar

BY DAVID DIETZ

Noted Science Writer: Author of "Atomic Energy in the Coming Era," Etc. (Written for NEA Service)

(1) Radar on wings was used by Allied bombers and blimps to crush the Luftwaffe, to bomb Nazi industry into extinction, to sink the U-boats and Japanese shipping, to guide aircraft with unerring accuracy on trans-oceanic flights. This was accomplished by scientists, technicians, engineers and others of the United Nations working in extreme secrecy and under armed protection 24 hours a day. Using the cathode ray oscilloscope, which is similar to the image tube in a television receiver, radar revealed the exact outlines of the enemy's forces or installations, through clouds, fog, great distances or darkness. (2) Early in the development of radar it became necessary to determine the difference between a friendly ship or plane and one of the enemy. The British solved this difficulty through the development of the IFF—"Information, Friend or Foe." The plane wishing to make the distinction sends out a series of waves. From an enemy ship or plane, it is reflected back weakly. But a radar on a friendly craft returns a strong message, which is in a predetermined code. (3) The Axis nations as well as the Allies used radar. Before landings could be made on enemy soil most successfully, Axis radars had to be jammed. And the radars of the Axis partners were jammed so effectively that they were useless when the Allies made their landings both in Europe and on the Pacific. One of the most effective devices for jamming consisted of strips of aluminum foil about a foot long and an inch wide. Dropped from planes in bundles of 6000, they scattered widely and gave back a strong radar reflection that completely screened the Allied landing parties.

No. 7: Radar on Wings

(4) Another method of jamming lay in the use of long strips of aluminum foil strung from parachutes. These were employed by American task forces in pre-invasion bombardments of Japanese islands. The parachutes were dropped from the planes of the American forces. Late in the war the Japanese developed a radar that could not be jammed, and these helped the kamikaze suicide flyers to find their warship targets. But as the war ended the American scientists developed a radar tube that made the kamikaze radar useless.

Ruberoid Co. Confirms Plan On Local Tract

Confirming a news article of some time ago concerning the development northwest of this city by the Ruberoid Company, the New York offices of that concern today released the following statement indicating that a permanent reforestation project will be carried out on the former Wilder tract:

"Negotiations have been completed for the purchase by The Ruberoid Company, nationally known manufacturers of asphalt and asbestos roofing and building materials, of 1,100 acres of woodland located in the vicinity of Corry, Pa., partly in Erie county and partly in Warren county. The purchase was made from the Fidelity Trust Company, of Pittsburgh, which had acquired the property from the Howe estate.

"The purpose of the transaction is to provide for the two large Ruberoid factories at Erie, a permanent source of wood for use in the manufacture of dry roofing felt. Cutting of cordwood for felt making has started and some standing timber on the property suitable for lumber is being sold for that purpose.

"In order that the property may be maintained as a permanent source of supply for Ruberoid, all cutting on the tract will be carefully supervised and adequate provision will be made for reforestation."

"Established nearly sixty years ago, the Ruberoid Co., is one of the oldest and largest manufacturers of building products in the country. In addition to its two Erie plants, it operates nine other large factories and provides employment for more than 3,500 persons."

Every Moose

Proud? You Bet!

HERE is a record which will be a source of pride to every member of the Order!

At the latest tabulation, as shown in the column at the left, 691 Mooseheart students have served their country during World War II. Over 71% of these splendid boys and girls—495 of them—held commissioned rank or non-commissioned ratings. It is doubtful whether any school in America can boast of a record even closely comparable. It bespeaks the high standards governing Mooseheart, which standards result in the development of character evidenced by the accomplishments of these young men and women.

It must also be remembered that 100 boys and girls of the 691 who served have not been heard from directly. Some of these, too, may have ratings and rank.

It is especially thrilling to note the number of commissioned officers. Besides these 82, there were 2 Aviation Cadets. There are also some young men in Army Intelligence whose names and rank have been withheld for security reasons.

Not tabulated on the left hand side are the citations received by Mooseheart service folk. Here they are:

Congressional Medal of Honor... 1
Unit Citations 12
Individual Citations 8
Commendations 7
Distinguished Flying Cross 1
Air Medal 9
Silver Star 3
Elected Honor Man of Company... 2
Legion of Merit Medal 2
Bronze Star 5
Good Conduct Medal 14
Purple Heart 1
Combat Medical Badge 1
Navy and Marine Corps Medal ... 1
Total 72

Unfortunately, Mooseheart suffered its losses as did many other American and Canadian homes. Fourteen boys made the supreme sacrifice; 47 were wounded and 5 are still reported missing in action. Nine boys were prisoners of war, all now released, of course, except one lad who died in a German prison camp.

Not a one of these 691 boys and girls but who deserves and will receive our prayers of thanks, and our good wishes for them. Heroes all, they make us proud, and glad that we were able to help them in our support of Mooseheart.

Public Health Nurse Week

This week, April 7 to 13, has been designated as Public Health Nursing Week, part of a nation-wide education program to promote better understanding of public health nursing as a service to everyone, regardless of his financial status. To be more specifically known as Know Your Public Health Nurse Week, the observance is sponsored throughout the country by the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, a voluntary organization which helps communities establish and maintain a high standard of public health nursing service.

The goal of public health nursing is the building of a community and national health which will be able to withstand the onslaught of disease and, eventually, to control disease itself. This is a goal with which we are all in the deepest accord, but one which cannot be achieved as long as there is such discrepancy between what medical research knows about ways of improving health and what the public does about applying that knowledge in its daily lives. It is the public health nurse who can help to make this practical application. She comes to the home, to the school, to the industrial plant, as a teacher of health, as one who is ready to care for the sick, to demonstrate nursing techniques, and to show the way to a healthier life.

Posters have been placed in many spots about town to remind the public of the significance of this week, and the Times-Mirror gladly cooperates in the program to acquaint its readers with the importance of public health nursing and those who carry on its program. On Wednesday, a complete list of the community's public health nurse will be published in these columns.

Palm Sunday Soloist

Richard Manning, popular New York singer, who will be heard here in a special Palm Sunday presentation.

The choir of First Methodist church feels very fortunate in having secured Richard Manning, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association, as leading soloist for its presentation of Stainer's "The Crucifixion" at First church at 4:00 p. m. Palm Sunday.

Mr. Manning has been featured soloist on several occasions for coast to coast broadcasts over the major networks. Appearances in both United States and Canadian cities have been very well received by both critics and those audiences who have had opportunity of hearing him.

One of his happy experiences was a command performance given for King George VI of England. Speaking of his work in the New York Times, Noel Strauss writes: "Most accomplished work in song, Richard Manning, a tenor with an exceedingly promising voice. Used with taste and fine sense of melodic outline as well as control of breath that made an easy conquest of the longest phrases of his arias."

When he sang in Montreal, Thomas Archer wrote for the Gazette: "Obviously born to be a singer. . . Mr. Manning leaves his listeners with the impression he has really absorbed a song and made it part of himself, his personal property—that is as rare as it is a virtue."

Down in Mexico, a critic states: "Artistry and warmth of tone with such deep understanding of his material is truly remarkable in one so obviously young. Here is a young singer of the old Italian tradition."

A very interesting talk on how the club was formed. She also named all past presidents, including Mrs. Henry Kolpin, Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mrs. Paul Olson, Mrs. Esmond Kneibley, Mrs. Blue Wendelboe, Mrs. Gerald Archibald and Mrs. Ross.

The remainder of the program was devoted to a book review by Mrs. Archibald, who used Herbert Best's "Young 'Un".

To conclude, a lovely lunch was served from a table attractively appointed in yellow and green and presided over by Mrs. Herbert Harris and Mrs. Kolpin.

Mrs. Harold Frost, of Buffalo, N. Y., was the only out of town guest.

Mrs. Harry Johnson was in charge of arrangements for the event, assisted by Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Lloyd Rawson and Mrs. Curtis Sasserson.

Honhart-Campbell Rites Announced

Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy B. Campbell, West Fifth avenue, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Robert Honhart, also of this city, on Saturday, April 6, at 10 a. m., with only the immediate families attending.

The bride wore a red rose corsage with her blue suit, and had a hair ornament of white flowers. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, of Irvine; Blanche Baker, Harriet Lindsey and Theodore Hermonson, of Buffalo, N. Y.

The newlyweds will be at home at 408 Market street, after April 15th.

2000 Nine-Inch Brownies Are Placed In Anglers' Paradise

Local Dog Wins LEA Trial Honor

By the Associated Press

Philadelphia — Ike Williams, 1364, Trenton, N. J., knocked out Eddie Glosa, 137, Philadelphia (1)

Providence, R. I.—Willie Pep, 130 3/4, Hartford, Conn., knocked out George Knox, 128 3/4, Newark, N. J. (3). Non title.

Two of the projects on which the Field and Stream Club has spent several hundred dollars are rapidly becoming the fish and game paradise which this club has promised for the sportsmen of Warren County. The Spring Creek

Paradise has recently been stocked with 2000 brown trout none of which were under nine inches in length and many of these trout were as large as the usual "ones that get away."

This planting was made within the two and one-half mile stretch at the lower end of the stream and is in addition to the regular stocking which this stream has received every year. The Fish Commission has set aside additional brown and rainbow trout to be stocked from time to time during the next few months within the paradise.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding, the Paradise is open to any fisherman having a Pennsylvania license. The only restrictions are as follows:

1. No trout under nine inches in length in your possession while within the Paradise.

2. Not over six trout in your possession while within the Paradise.

3. No live bait in your possession while within the Paradise.

4. Fishing from 5 a. m. to 9 p. m. only.

While the committee on rules and regulations did not prohibit the use of barbed hooks, they should not be used unless absolutely necessary as a great many fish will have to be returned to the stream.

The posters with the rules and regulations have been placed along the stream with two large signs at either end of the Paradise signifying the boundaries.

Several deputy wardens have been appointed and the stream will be patrolled constantly. It is well to call sportsmen to bear in mind that if they should have taken trout under nine inches long on any other stream, they should not be kept in their creel when fishing within the limits of the Paradise.

The Spring Creek project was undertaken to provide the best possible brown and rainbow trout fishing and can become one of the finest in the country with the cooperation of the sportsmen.

Play this year will be in three classes: Class A men's, Class B men's, and Class A women's. The Bethlehem Armorettes are the women's defending titlists.

Polio Victim 'Walks' Again

Eighteen months ago Mrs. Eleanor Hunt, 29, was stricken with Cleveland's worst case of poliomyelitis. Paralyzed completely below her throat, the blonde former Ohio Wesleyan beauty and athlete began to fight back with super-courage and every medical treatment available. By sheer will power she managed to increase day by day the number of breaths she could take outside her respirator. Now she can remain out for hours. Her husband, Sydney A. Hunt, devised wooden shoes so Mrs. Hunt could stand on them—her legs strapped to his—and he could "walk" her about their home on week-end visits from the hospital. Their daughters, Peggy, left, and Patricia, look on, above. Mrs. Hunt will fly to California next week in an Army plane for a new type of treatment.

EASTER COATS

29.75

Equally appropriate for spring: the straight-lined Chesterfield... the short coat that flares from the shoulder... the belted short coat... the dress-length fitted-and-belted coat. Your new coat is clean-lined, or clingingly feminine! Pastels, bright or subtle. Neutrals with quiet elegance! Soft wools and worsteds! Sizes 9 to 20.

Cheer for Prints! Sheer for Darks!

DRESSES 9-14.

4.98 and 5.90

Hi-ho, for a print that's merry! Bright-eyed florals on dark or pastel grounds. The dark dress—sheer fabric, short sleeves—is a springtime dress rival! 9-14.
